

EXECUTIVE BIOGRAPHY

MARY K. RHINEHART

Chairman, President and Chief Executive Officer

Mary K. Rhinehart is chairman, president and CEO of Johns Manville (JM), a global manufacturer of premium-quality building products and engineered specialty materials and a Berkshire Hathaway company. Mary has spent nearly four decades at JM, holding leadership roles in finance, global treasury, global supply chain, human resources and strategic business development, as well as managing several of the company's business units. She was named president and CEO in 2012, after serving as CFO.

Today, Mary guides and champions more than 7,300 employees in delivering positive and powerful experiences to global customers who rely on JM products that make diverse environments stronger, more durable and more energy-efficient and comfortable. Through its three business units – Insulation Systems, Roofing Systems and Engineered Products – JM provides solutions to customers in more than 85 countries and operates 43 manufacturing facilities in North America, Europe and China. Mary is responsible for driving sustainable and profitable growth for the 160-year-old, Denver-based company.

Mary is personally committed to giving back to the community and contributing her business insights to other organizations. She currently serves as the Lead Director on the Board of CoBiz Financial. With a passion for education, advancing women in leadership and grassroots advocacy, she contributes her expertise as a member of the Executive Committee for the Policy Advisory Board of the Harvard Joint Center for Housing Studies; University of Denver Board of Trustees; International Women's Forum; The Colorado Forum; and Committee of 200. Mary formerly was a Board member of PlyGem Corporation, UC Health, Kemp Children's Foundation, Denver Chamber of Commerce and Chairman of the Craig Hospital Board. Mary has been honored with numerous awards for her professional leadership and philanthropic service.

Mary graduated cum laude with a B.S. degree in finance from the University of Colorado at Boulder, and she earned an M.B.A. from the Daniels College of Business at the University of Denver. She and her husband live in Denver.
